News from Entr'Actes

At this early stage in the season the Entr'Actes-SACD reading committee has chosen 4 plays currently on the boards, by both world renowned and budding playwrights. Some plays already presented in Actes du Théâtre have been extended due to their success.

Actes du Théâtre also reports on the latest news from the summer and the beginning of the new season, featuring young playwrights on international residencies, Dramafest in Mexico and Cross Channel Theatre, which has made its debut at the Edinburgh Festival. New translations have become available through these projects, providing access to French playwrights in English and Spanish.

We hope to hear from you soon.

Sabine Bossan and Sandrine Grataloup

INTERNATIONAL CULTURAL PROJECTS

International residencies for young playwrights

For years the SACD has been committed to promoting international exchanges with budding playwrights, enriching our French and Francophone playwrights' careers by opening a window onto the world, its languages, cultures and varied approaches to the theater.

Dramafest Festival

The Dramafest contemporary theater festival, held in Mexico in August and September, has devoted its 2016 program to France. The festival promotes contemporary playwriting, creating ties between French and Mexican artists.

Cross Channel Theatre

This year, Cross Channel has stretched its wings all the way to the Edinburgh Festival. The Summerhall, a venue famous for showing new work, hosted the three staged readings on August 22nd.
